Our team of experts will help you unlock the full potential of SharePoint, Microsoft Teams and OneDrive to create a seamless, enterprise-wide collaboration and document management system. We are Microsoft Gold Partners and can provide you with the framework for an effective document management strategy, including:

- SharePoint: A web-based document management system for teamwork and collaboration. It is a highly configurable platform that integrates with Office 365, Microsoft Teams and OneDrive.
- Microsoft Teams: A comprehensive workplace communications platform that combines chat, video, file sharing and application integration functions with Office 365, SharePoint and OneDrive.
- OneDrive: An online document and file storage platform that connects with Office 365, Microsoft Teams and SharePoint via the cloud, making data instantly available on any connected device.

CrucialLogics' technology experts have over 20 years of experience in executing complex document management and collaboration design solutions. Our team uses Information Architecture (IA) to establish how your content is managed and then presented to the end user. We factor in the best practices and first principles of proper document management, including:

- Metadata
- Content Types
- Taxonomy
- Enterprise Search

Working together we can help you optimize your IT transformation initiatives and the business value of your enterprise content.
